Announcing a CSU Special Enrollment Period for February 2020

The CSU has selected Standard Insurance Company (The Standard) as the new carrier for our new Voluntary Accident Insurance and Critical Illness Insurance coverage which becomes effective April 1, 2020.

Critical Illness Insurance:

Critical Illness Insurance is an affordable way to make up the difference between what your medical insurance covers and what you owe out of pocket if you or a family member are diagnosed with a covered critical illness. You may be eligible to purchase coverage between $5,000 and $50,000 in $5,000 increments for yourself and up to $30,000 for your spouse. Your children are automatically covered at 50 percent of the amount elected for yourself. Children are also covered for 21 additional childhood diseases, including cystic fibrosis, Down Syndrome, muscular dystrophy, spinal bifida and cerebral palsy to name a few.

For answers to commonly asked questions, costs, exclusions, and limitations, please review the Critical Illness Insurance Brochure.

Accident Insurance

Accident Insurance helps protect your bank account from the out of pocket expenses that come with an injury whether it be a broken arm or you are recovering from a serious car accident. In the event of a covered accident, your Accident insurance will pay a benefit directly to you. Benefits are based on the injuries you sustain and the treatments you receive.

During this period, you will also have the opportunity to review the current Voluntary Life Insurance with a special one-time Guarantee Issue up to $100,000 for employee coverage. You may also want to consider enrolling in Voluntary Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) offered by The Standard year round.

A Special Enrollment Period has been set for the month of February for you to elect any of these new coverages. There will be four live webinars hosted by The Standard on January 28th and 29th at 10am and 2pm.
