The 2021-22 Annual Report for the Division of Human Resources, Diversity & Inclusion at Cal State Fullerton highlights services and accomplishments achieved within the 2021-22 fiscal year. Developed, edited, and designed by Rachel Robbins. Content and editorial assistance from the HRDI People Leadership Team and HRDI staff. Photography by Matt Gush, Strategic Communications and HRDI staff. Thank you to the many individuals who contributed to the development of this report and to our campus community partners for your support. Welcome

Titan Family,

Our team, like all our Titans, continue to pivot to navigate new challenges and shifts in our work. This past fiscal year HRDI was focused on our post-pandemic initiatives of wellness, evolving culture, and creating an information pipeline.

This past summer, HRDI launched the Pilot 9/80 Summer Program as part of our broader Titan Flex initiative, to offer greater flexibility while maintaining campus operations. We are proud to share that 93% of pilot program participants agreed that the 9/80 schedule improved their work-life balance. To address the need for an information pipeline of important HR updates, HRDI developed key communication methods to provide campus employees timely updates regarding re-entry and other important issues including weekly business continuity calls for managers, monthly newsletters, and frequent updates to the HRDI website.

Our annual University Awards Program returned to the Titan Gym after two years. It was great to see our faculty and staff in person and to celebrate their years of service and contributions to the university. We opened and populated the Staff Development Center, a new learning space just for staff and we continued to imagine and offer education and resources to enable you to do your best at work.

In this new fiscal year, look for opportunities to engage with HRDI and the campus. The campus climate survey will be launched in the spring. Your voice and experiences are crucial to help us measure inclusion and belonging on campus. Become a champion of inclusion this semester—consider joining our Inclusion Champion Certificate Program (ICCP) at your own pace, either in-person or on-demand. Get involved with activities around this year’s One Book One CSUF program. The book selected by the campus for the ’22-’23 academic year is: One of the Good Ones by Maika and Maritza Moulite.

From all of us in HRDI – Thank you to every amazing Titan faculty and staff member for your continued support of our Titan students and making CSUF a great place to work. Our students are lucky to have you and I am grateful to serve with you every day.

Sincerely,

David Forgues, Ph.D., SHRM-SCP
Vice President for Human Resources, Diversity & Inclusion

Social Justice Guiding Principles

In response to the increase in divisive rhetoric and violence around the country, CSUF furthered its efforts to create a diverse, equitable and inclusive campus in Spring 2021. Using the university Strategic Plan as a touchstone to infuse equity-minded and inclusive-based practices in all that we do, a diverse team of cross-divisional leaders collaborated to develop CSUF’s Guiding Principles for Social Justice. With coherent action items that are both reflective of our past and aspirational for our future, these principles will be infused in the work of our division and the services HRDI provides, making clear that our goal to be an inclusive, equitable, anti-racist campus remains preeminent.

Guiding Principles for Social Justice

1. Enhance Equitable Learning
   Create a campus community that is committed to the achievement of equitable outcomes for all students, with particular emphasis on assessing and incentivizing the closure of opportunity gaps for students from historically racially marginalized groups. Ensure faculty have the requisite tools and skills to facilitate equitable learning.

2. Expand Intentional Outreach
   Redouble efforts across the institution to successfully recruit, retain, and graduate students from underserved communities, with a specific emphasis on Black/African American and Native American/Indigenous Titans.

3. Amplify HSI Designation & Radiate an Identity of Inclusion
   Ensure our identity as a multietnic, multiracial, and multicultural institution that is committed to a future free of racism and bias is clearly articulated and visible to everyone – internally and externally. Including our designation as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and our eligibility for designation as an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI).

4. Build a Professoriate-to-Leadership Pipeline
   Increase the number of individuals from historically underrepresented racial and ethnic communities in our faculty ranks, and create a supportive pipeline for those who seek administrative futures. Continue to enhance efforts to further diversify all of the institution’s educators, including staff.

5. Recognize History and Catalyze Change
   Instill in all Titans — especially those in formal leadership roles — the ability to not only recognize and call out structural racism and bias, but also drive real, sustainable, systemic change at all levels of our campus community.

6. Create an Antiracist Community
   Embed and implement principles of antiracism, diversity, equity, and inclusion in all that we do.
Our Strategy

21-22 Strategic Plan
Year four of our five-year strategic plan.

HRDI established a five-year strategic plan in 2018. The below five goal areas, listed as “strategic directions,” are the main objectives that drives our work and each year progress is tracked against these goals.

01
Goal 1: Employee Engagement
Develop and support programs and activities that foster a diverse and inclusive community and increase employee engagement.

02
Goal 2: Leveraging Technology
Pilot and adopt technology solutions to improve customer experience and service delivery.

03
Goal 3: Data-Based Decision Making
Use employment and customer service data to inform operational and strategic decision making.

04
Goal 4: Proactive Communication
Improve and streamline communication between HRDI and University stakeholders to model transparency and best practice.

05
Goal 5: Collaborative Partnerships
Pursue strategic collaborations with University partners to strengthen diversity and inclusion and scale University initiatives.

Post-Pandemic Initiatives

Implementation of post-pandemic initiatives.

With “People First” as the guiding principle for campus re-entry planning, three additional post-pandemic initiatives were developed and fulfilled in the 21-22 fiscal year to support a successful return to campus,

Wellness
Support employee wellness to ensure our people can provide excellent support back to our students, focusing on physical, mental, emotional, financial and professional wellness.

Evolving Culture
Explore how we sustain productivity & identify what is best for our employees

Information Pipeline
Ensure continued communication on re-entry and on how our work will look differently post re-entry.
Our Impact

HRDI is the first division of its kind within the California State University (CSU) system and as such is a transformational organization built on the foundation of change and innovation. HRDI is expanding its capacity outside the traditional human resources role by serving the community as a strategic partner. We no longer limit ourselves to the customary HR model of transactional service but emphasize our values of people first and strive to serve our employees and students through a social justice lens. Our investment in our community includes students, faculty, staff, and internal/external stakeholders.

Telecommute Insights Across the CSU

Partnered with three other CSU campuses to share key strategies and implementation insights of the established telework policies for employees. CSUF was the first of the CSU campuses to create and implement the telework policies for non-represented and represented employees, after consultation with employee labor unions. The CSU modeled its systemwide telecommute policy after CSUF’s pilot program.

9/80 Summer Pilot Program

The campus piloted a voluntary summer 9/80 work schedule aimed at increasing job satisfaction and flexibility while maintaining productivity and operation. The pilot program had 598 participants and over 93% agree that the 9/80 schedule improved or maintained productivity, and improved work balance.

The 9/80 program definitely increased my overall job satisfaction and appreciation of CSUF. I saw an increase in morale across our college as well. I felt energized looking forward to my Friday off and a renewed sense of focus when I returned after having a three-day weekend.

INITIATIVE:

Ensure continued communication on re-entry and on how our work will look differently post re-entry.
Enhancing Communication

To address the challenges of frequently updating our employees in different modalities, our division adopted a proactive communication strategy to create an information pipeline so our employees had access to the latest campus, state, and national news and advice. Utilizing the below methods of communication, we were able to keep our employees well informed of campus COVID-19 and Re-Entry updates.

- Social Media
- HRDI Website
- Titan TV Signage
- 25 Live Calendar
- Written Emails to Employees
- Monthly Employee HR Newsletters
- Monthly Employee Diversity Newsletters
- Weekly Manager Business Continuity Calls

The website was utilized frequently to share information with our employees. New website content was created for several important campus updates, programs and policy changes so information and resources were easily accessible to employees despite the campus working in different capacities. New web pages were created for:

- Telecommute Policy
- Monkeypox
- COVID-19 Frequent Updates
- Staff Development Conference
- Staff Development Center

All written campus communication related to COVID-19 was made public and archived on the HRDI website for ease of access among our employees. HRDI communicated President’s Directive 22 updates with campus employees and advised on new required protocols as needed.

Our goal is to support the campus’s ongoing effort to strive for justice, equity and inclusion for all Titans.
Fostering a Community of Belonging and Inclusion

Social justice week

DIEP collaborated with Associated Students Inc, identity-based centers, and the Faculty Development Center to enhance Social Justice Week (SJW) which was held in March 2022. The week-long conference engaged the entire Titan community in learning activities and dialogue centered on the issues of social justice. Keynote speaker Daniel Dae Kim discussed social justice on campus and in society.

DIEP Session Highlight: Campus-Wide Climate Survey Visioning Session

The campus climate survey visioning sessions are designed to get the campus authentic feedback on what should be included in the survey instrument, specific areas on campus in need of prioritization, and how to deliver results. All campus members are invited to collaborate with their fellow Titans and discuss how the campus should strategize around this effort. Please come join us!

DIEP Session Highlight: Community Building Circles

Building, maintaining, and cultivating community and connection are always important, and they are essential as we navigate changes surrounding the pandemic. One Book, One CSUF

Common Read Book Program
To celebrate the power of our many stories, DIEP launched the second annual One Book, One CSUF (OBOC) program, a part of our Titans Together: Striving for Justice, Equity, and Inclusion initiative.

The 2021-22 selection by the campus community was George Takei’s They Called Us Enemy, a graphic memoir recounting Takei’s childhood imprisoned within American incarceration camps during World War II.

All students, staff, faculty, and administrators were encouraged to participate in the common read book initiative through events and workshops throughout the year. Workshops created for the OBOC program included:

Workshops & Discussions
- Diving Deep into They Called Us Enemy: A Campus Community Discussion
- Beyond They Called Us Enemy, panel of scholars profoundly affected by the incarceration of Japanese-Americans during World War II: A Campus Community Discussion,
- We Hereby Refuse: Japanese American Resistance to Wartime Incarceration: A Campus Community Discussion
- Presentation of Japanese American Archival Collections
- Using Graphic Memoirs to Support Inquiry into Issues of Social Justice

George Takei visited campus on April 5 to discuss his life, Japanese-American incarceration, and his fight for social justice. The event was offered as part of the Titans Together Speaker Series and the university’s OBOC.

In partnership with the Strategic Communications, OBOC was marketed on the Titans Together website to provide Titans with the latest events and resources.

Staff Development Conference (StaffCon) 2021
The inaugural staff conference in 2021 provided a unique learning experience for staff members on campus focused on the pillars of Diversity, Leadership, and Wellness, based on feedback from staff professional development needs.

93% ATTENDEES RATED
the quality of the conference “above average” or “excellent”

150+ ATTENDED each session

I have never been to a retreat/conference where the session context actually felt like a retreat. The keynote was motivational and provided practical tips toward professional development. The self-care session was nurturing and transformative. The culture of the campus can begin to shift upward (prof development) and inward (culture of care) as a result of this conference.

FOCLC Writing Retreat
Focusing on ways to promote wellness, the Faculty of Color Learning Community (FOCLC) invited professors throughout the semester to share insight and tools focused on writing, publishing, research needs, and wellness. Associate Professor of Educational Leadership and Department Chair of Secondary Education Dr. Natalie Tran shared a presentation focused on reflection and how to handle competing priorities. In addition, the FOCLC writing retreat strongly focused on faculty mental health, resources, and finding community. The program grew from 39 members to a total of 61 active members.

Faculty of Color Learning Community
Comprised of faculty across subjects, colleges, and backgrounds, the Faculty of Color Learning Community (FOCLC) comes together to discuss issues they are experiencing, receive guidance and resources to address those issues, and serve as mentors for future generations of educators. In collaboration with the Office of Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity Programs, FOCLC hosts a speaker series each semester on a topic integral to the lives of faculty of color. This year featured speaker series included: Alvin Rangel-Alvarado, Dr. Vita Jones, and Dr. Joya Cooley.

Inclusive Leadership Symposium
The 4th annual Inclusive Leadership Symposium took place in April 2022 and included keynote speaker Ashley Stewart, Executive Coach, Leadership Development Practitioner, Racial Consciousness Consultant. The theme for 2022 was “Disrupting Institutional Racism”. Participants learned about the impact of race on their work and gained insight into fostering great consciousness and introspection.

Inclusive Champion Certificate Program (ICCP)
The CSUF Inclusive Champion Certificate Program (ICCP) continues with a total of 96 employees completing the program as of April 2022. The ICCP provides campus-wide education and awareness regarding racial equity and justice by creating opportunities for self-reflection, increased cultural competency and awareness.

96 employees earned their ICCP certificate

Crucial Conversations
In this pilot program, eight MPPs and chairs from across the campus participated in CSUF’s first Crucial Conversations cohort. In this course, participants met over live Zoom sessions each day in October 2021. The intensive week covered nine main skills that instructed individuals to manage conflict, have difficult conversations, and express their own emotions in a healthy manner. Participants shared how they are using the skills in their own difficult situations and received advice and support from peers. These review sessions will meet monthly so that participants can regularly refresh and assess their progress in what they learned.

129 managers participated in the fall and spring program

Diversity & Inclusion Leadership Academy
This fiscal year, the 3rd Diversity & Inclusion Leadership Academy (DILA) cohort was announced. DILA provides an in-depth experience through the integration of competency-building seminars, applied learning, and open dialogue sessions. This academy represents the participant’s dedication to upholding our campus commitment for an inclusive climate from our classrooms and offices to our community.

Recruitment Activity

Conducting Equitable and Inclusive Searches (CEIS)

In support of the university’s commitment to recruit, hire and retain a diverse workforce, DIEP developed new equitable searches and diversity education sessions for all CSUF positions. All search committee members participating in staff and MPP searches were required to complete a 90-minute diversity education session on equitable and inclusive search practices.

In partnership with the Employee Training Center (ETC), DIEP made the CEIS training self-paced and available online. A web page was also created to host the latest training resources, offerings, and FAQs.

~1,700 employees have completed CEIS training so far

Executive Leadership Searches

HRDI led the search for two executive level searches, the Vice President for Administration and Finance/Chief Financial Officer and Dean of Extension and International Programs. The searches were conducted using in-house prospect research and communication to prospective candidates. The search website (search.fullerton.edu) was updated for each search to include candidate and campus forum information and a place to provide feedback form.

Common Human Resources System (CHRS) Enhancements

In October 2021, student hiring for academic and non-represented student assistants transitioned to the Common Human Resources System (CHRS). In addition, the CHRS Recruiting Onboarding Portal was launched in the same month. The portal allows users to complete required employment documents, tasks, and access important information and resources all in one virtual location. Supervisors and Onboarding Delegates can track candidate progress and complete their own onboarding tasks in CHRS Recruiting.
Satisfaction Survey Results

The annual Customer Satisfaction Survey was established to gather valuable employee feedback at Cal State Fullerton. The findings from this data provide insights into the employee experience and allow our division to identify opportunities for improvement, areas of success and how to prioritize the needs of our customers. Looking ahead to the coming year, our priority will shift to a campus climate survey, which will be shared with the campus community in Spring 2023.

2022 Titan of the Year

Michael August, Performing Arts Technician III/Production Coordinator, School of Music (Academic Affairs)

Michael’s nominator describes how he demonstrates exemplary service to the campus and community by being the “go-to guy” for all things related to facilities, technology and performance in the Clayes Performing Arts Center. He sees that every stage production and individual recital and ensemble — large, medium or small — gets up and running on schedule, and he often works the control booth himself alongside his students.”

Titan Excellence Award

Catherine Ward, director of learning and engagement, Diversity, Inclusion and Equity Programs (Human Resources, Diversity and Inclusion); former executive director of retention initiatives (Student Affairs)

According to her nomination, “For the professional staff in her team, she lives up to the saying “lift as you climb.” She provides many doors of opportunities for her team where they can shine and flourish professionally. She exemplifies outstanding leadership, grace, empathy, compassion, dedication and commitment. Her work focuses on intentionality, mindfulness, empathy and equity.”

Titan Excellence Award

Katherine Powers, Professor of Music, School of Music, Academic Affairs

Power’s nominator states, “Thanks to her efforts, the number of Latinx graduate students at CSUF increased by 37% from 2014 to 2020, and a higher percentage of these students are graduating. Her work has truly transformed Cal State Fullerton’s graduate programs.”

2022 Diversity and Inclusion Award

The winner of this year’s Diversity, Inclusion and Equity Award is the McNairs Scholar Program. Preparing for Ph.D. programs is a rigorous and stressful experience, even for the most privileged of students. It is even more difficult for McNair Scholars, who frequently face “imposter syndrome,” economic instability, familial demands and stressors, and mental health challenges, as they attempt to develop research skills and knowledge of the politics of academia needed to succeed in doctoral programs. McNair scholars are encouraged to “lean into learning” and continually build on their existing knowledge and skill sets.”

2022 Teamwork and Collaboration Award

The winner of this year’s Teamwork and Collaboration Award is the Facilities Operations Managers. Amid the COVID-19 pandemic, a group of dedicated managers maintained a physical presence on campus. The operations team took care of such services as cleaning, sanitization and utilities to provide a safe environment for the campus. Their managers demonstrated to the staff that the university cared about the work conditions of custodial, landscape and logistics by ensuring that managers and directors were on campus to support, encourage and contribute.

Presidential Award of Distinction

The award, coordinated by the Office of the President, recognizes individuals or teams who best demonstrate the values and mission of Cal State Fullerton or who have demonstrated an extraordinary commitment to the university. It is intended to recognize those who have made distinctive contributions to the Titan community and have demonstrated Titan excellence far above and beyond what one might expect. John W. “Jack” Bedell, the late professor emeritus of sociology, was honored posthumously at the program for his service, leadership and for making a lasting impact on the campus. Virjie presented the award to Bedell’s wife, Sue, and his family members at the April 21 University Awards Program.

Tips from a Titan Employee

Empowering others around them, including faculty, staff and students, these Titan employees recently graduated with a degree in higher education. HRDI spotlighted several inspiring employees on campus who earned their degree the previous academic year. Employees who submitted their degree to HRDI for recognition at the University Awards Program were asked about their recent accomplishments, and to give tips and advice to current Titan students pursuing their degree. The highlights from employee stories were shared on social media and full stories were posted to the HRDI recognition website.

What tips do you have for Titan students pursuing their degree?

“A lot of students think that you should figure out what you want to do for the rest of your life while you are in college but that’s not reality. You should simply figure out what you want to study for the next 4 years. It’s ok to be unsure but do not quit!”

Campus Climate Survey
This spring, DIEP hosted several visioning sessions for staff, faculty and students to inform the campus what a climate survey is, gather feedback, and strategize with the campus community on the upcoming survey. There will be more opportunities to share your thoughts in Spring 2023, when the climate survey launches to campus. All Titans are encouraged to participate and provide their authentic feedback, which will help our direction in our diversity, inclusion, and equity work in the years ahead.
